SUB INSIDE STORY BY CHAMBERLAIN

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today a full public inquiry would be held into the submarine Thetis disaster in which 99 men perished.

The prime minister, in what he called a full account of the disaster as far as details were known, declared two forward compartments in the submarine were flooded through the forward torpedo tube.

Chamberlain disclosed that after the submarine was located she was lost for nearly 16 hours, presumably on Saturday, when her marking buoy was cut away by the shipping of a wire placed around the bulk in rescue efforts.

SLIPS "WRONG WAY"

The wire, he said "slipped the wrong way" after being placed around the Thetis at 7:15 a. m., cutting away the indicator buoy.

The submarine was located at approximately 11 p. m.

In describing the finding, Chamberlain said it was found impossible to close the watertight door behind the first compartment but flooding was restricted to the second compartment.

It was found impossible to close the watertight door behind the first compartment, he said, but flooding was restricted to the second compartment.

CAUSE OF DISASTER

The main ballast tank was empty, but the submarine continued to dive and struck bottom in about 130 feet of water in Liverpool bay, he said.

This impact destroyed the signaling apparatus, making it impossible for the submarine to communicate with surface vessels.

A marker buoy was released, Chamberlain said, and smoke floats were sent up, but they were not observed by the escorting tug which was with the Thetis when she made her tragic dive at 1:40 p. m. (8:40 a. m. E. D. T.) Thursday.

To facilitate the escape of personnel, the prime minister said, all measures were taken by the crew to lighten the submarine and the stern thus came to the surface by daylight Friday.

THREE MEN DIED FLEEING

After describing the finding of the submarine and the rescue efforts briefly, Chamberlain said that in view of the magnitude of the disaster it was proposed that a full public inquiry be held. Naval inquiries usually are private.

(Chamberlain then reviewed stories told before the admiralty investigators.)

Earlier before an admiralty board investigating the greatest of under-

MURPHY, G-MAN HOOVER LEAD BOSTON TAX DRIVE

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the G-men, and Attorney General Frank Murphy will be in Boston this week to lead the offensive against old-line political leaders, contractors and racketeers in the long-dormant federal tax evasion cases.

During Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, they will personally take a hand in the drive against tax evaders which was launched five weeks ago in Boston by their investigators.

Chiefly the drive is against politicians with apparently hidden sources of income and against contractors' equipment and material supply men who have failed to make income tax returns on state contracts.

Decision immediately to push the Boston cases came with general revitalization of tax enforcement activities since Attorney General Murphy took office.

JAILING THE 'BOSSSES'

Boston, it was learned, is the next major objective in the national "cleanup" which saw "Boss Tom" Fendergast convicted in Kansas City and heads lopped from well known West Coast political figures.

Massachusetts cases—some of them hanging fire through the years—are now in the final stages of preparation and await only arrival of the national leaders for the "putch" to begin.

Both Murphy and Hoover are known to have planned the drive against Los Angeles evaders and brought the drive there into full swing.

While treasury agents mobilized in a dozen large cities, Boston was known to be the next major objective in the drive against those believed to have violated the Federal income tax laws.

5-YEAR SEARCH

The suspected evaders were legion here. For five years, evi-

U.S. Keeps Watch On Refugee Ship Off Florida Coast

MIAMI, June 5—Off of this coast, in an empty, sunlit sea, the Hamburg-American liner St. Louis cruised today in its "voyage to nowhere" with its 907 Jewish refugees from Nazi Germany hoping against hope that the world would find a place for them to land.

And even as the ship lalled along, barely moving, endless conferences were being held in the United States and in other countries, seeking some destination for them rather than a return to Germany, to concentration camps, and perhaps death.

Every effort was being made to work out some scheme under which they could be landed at Santo Domingo, which agreed to receive them with reservations—after the ship was driven out of Havana harbor last Friday.

CUTTER ON WATCH

The St. Louis was first sighted off Fort Lauderdale yesterday, and coast guard cutter CG244 was dispatched to watch it to prevent any of the desperate prisoners from leaping into the sea in an effort to reach the mainland. Somewhere the ship was no more than a mile off shore, with this city's luxurious white sluces and red tile winter resort hotels in plain view.

Later, a second coast guard boat was sent out, but it remained in the ship's wake but a little while and returned to its base.

"They seemed cheerful, some of them," a crew member said, "but if they are sent back to Germany something terrible may happen."

There have been reports of a "mass suicide" attempt which may follow in the event all ports save those of Germany are barred to them. The captain had said he feared it.

All are holders of tourist tickets to Cuba, with no return, and are now being kept aboard at the expense of the Hamburg-American Line, which, consequently, is almost as eager to be rid of them as they are to get ashore. Capt. William Schroeder is believed awaiting final orders as to what shall be done with them.

PUSH PLAN

Lawrence Benson, New York attorney, is in Havana attempting to make Dominican Republic arrangements, while Jewish organizations in the United States are also pushing this article wide.

The vessel cruised last night up past the Miami light.

A Coast Guard plane was sent out this afternoon to determine its exact location after efforts to get its bearing from the ship had failed. The answer to the question, "Where are you?" Where are you going? came back as "Don't know."

From the intensity of the signals, however, it was judged that the ship is somewhere between the coast and the Bahamas.

Tighe Says O'Brien Ruled Revere Cops

Responsibility for police operations during the term of former Mayor James M. O'Brien was fixed today in Superior Court squarely upon O'Brien's shoulder.

Police Chief Edward J. Tighe, now on leave of absence and a state witness against O'Brien and 13 other defendants in the Revere gambling conspiracy trial, testified that he took orders from O'Brien.

MAINTAINED PROSECUTIONS

The police chief originally had been a defendant in the case, in which all defendants are charged with conspiracy to set up and maintain a gambling nuisance in the Ruby Club, Revere, but the charge against Tighe was not pressed and he became a prosecution witness.

In his testimony, Tighe said he had received complaints from the Revere Vigilantes, from the Welch and Ward Society and from Captain James P. Mahoney that the Ruby Club was a gambling joint.

He said he turned these complaints over to O'Brien and to Lieutenant Henry Tracy and Patrolman William C. Gibson, the latter two then constituting the Revere vice squad.

BLOW OFF FORESEEN

Mayor O'Brien, according to the witness, passed them off with a remark that "this place is either closed or is going to close."

His vice squad, Chief Tighe as-erted, reported back that there was a "quip" on it, "Supp. 2434000, witness testified he recalled saying I Mayor O'Brien:

"If the lid blows off, there will be hell to pay."

Nevertheless O'Brien never ordered him to close the Ruby Club, Tighe said.

The police head testified after he took the stand and Assistant Attorney General John S. Derham asked him:

"You were formerly chief of the Revere Police Department?"

"I am still chief of police," Tighe snapped back.

Under further questioning, he testified that soon after O'Brien's election the mayor ordered him to drop Lieutenant Church, Sergeant Gallo and Patrolman Gearraughty as the vice squad and replace them with Lieutenant Tracy and Patrolman Gibson.

"I told the mayor I didn't want Tracy," said Tighe, "and I asked him why he was ordering Gearraughty dropped from the squad."

DEB CRASH DRIVER WINS TRIAL DELAY

Charged with drunkenness, drunken driving and driving so as to endanger after a Newbury street auto crash in which Miss Mary L. "Polly" Howell, youthful Beacon Hill socialite, was seriously injured, Horace B. Bent, Harvard law school student, acted as his own counsel in municipal court today.

He entered plea of not guilty on each count and won a continuance to June 13, with bail set at $ nominal figure of $25. Bent's home is in Bethlehem, Pa.

Miss Howell, 22-year-old post-debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Howell of Chestnut street, Beacon Hill, was reported in "comfortable" condition at City Hospital, where she was taken suffering from brain concussion, scalp lacerations and fractured collarbone.

The mother, Mrs. McCrohan (with her restored child in arms), stands at right, while near her is John McCrohan (wearing glasses), who demands the court deal sternly. Detective Simmons, who made the arrest, stands beside the prisoner who says she "borrowed" the baby to induce the man she loves to marry her. Her own baby had died.

Girl Pleads to Thief To Return His Loot

Seeking to reach the heart, if not the conscience, of a sneak thief who invaded dressing rooms at Peabody Playhouse a week ago, one of the girls who lost valuables appealed to the thief today personally, through the Boston Evening American.

The girls had parts in a performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe," and when they returned to the dressing rooms they found their handbags rifled and a d money, watches, fountain pens and other valuables gone.

Today Miss Florence Belrose of Newton, who lost a watch and fountain pen, asked the Boston American to publish the following appeal to the thief:

"Don't you think you'd really feel better if you gave back the things you took from our bags Monday evening at the Peabody Playhouse?"

"You see, we had such confidence in everyone that we left our jewelry where we considered it safest.

"Please try to imagine our disappointment and heartbreak when we discovered our loss.

"We cherished our watches, pens, etc., because they were given to us by people we love, and who love us. For instance, one young woman's watch was given her on her 13th birthday by her grandmother who died some time ago.

"Just how would you feel if you gave something especially nice to your girl-friend and someone stole it?"

"Let's see how much of a sport you can be and return our things to us by contacting the editor of this paper—then it can be settled peacefully and happily.

"Thank you!"

"Sincerely,

"F. M. B." Other girls who suffered losses were Ethel Watson of Melrose, Jean Barber of Malden, Sylvia Hall of the Back Bay, Evelett Eagan of Newton Centre and Betty Goodband, also of Newton Center.

MR. AND MRS. LEO GORCEY
Before Hectic Honeymoon

'DEAD END' KID HAS HONEYMOON WOE

HOLLYWOOD, June 5 (INS)—So hectic was the honeymoon of Leo Gorcey, one of the "Dead End" kids, that Warner Brothers may use it as the basis for a movie short subject.

News dispatches already had told of the accident in which Gorcey's bride, the former Kathryn Marvis, was thrown partly through the windshield of the actors' car.

Now that the honeymooners are back in Hollywood, however, they tell of so many other mishaps that studio writers believe they have the plot of a short comedy.

Here is how the jinx followed the newlyweds:

The day after the first accident, Gorcey and his bride went fishing and, in an attempted cast, she hooked him in the lip. It took an hour and a half to remove the barb and three stitches to repair the damage.

Less than 24 hours later, Gorcey slipped off a 15-foot ledge and twisted his ankle.

The final mishap occurred several days later. In trying to land a fish, he fell out of a boat into an ice cold lake and had to drive 20 miles to get a change of clothes.

No-Swim Beach Guards Hit

Although assigned to patrol the Charles River and the beaches, several recently appointed Metropolitan police officers cannot swim, it was charged today in a letter to Governor Saltonstall.

The letter was written by Daniel C. Keleher, of Canton, spokesman for a group of men who passed civil service examinations for places on the permanent force and are now supporting legislation to abolish the reserve force on the ground of discrimination.

It is contended by this group that men much lower on the eligible list take temporary summer work as reservists, and then have first call when vacancies occur in the permanent ranks.

Boy Gets Jail In Police Attack

Alleged to have beaten a Jamaica Plain special officer and severely injured him, a 17-year-old Roxbury boy was given one-month jail sentence today in West Roxbury court.

The defendant, Francis Mitchell of Elmore street, appeared and was held in $500 bail.

According to police, young Mitchell was one of a group of boys creating a disturbance in the balcony of the Jamaica theater, Jamaica Plain, Sunday afternoon, May 14.

Special Officer Albert Ahern colored Mitchell and took him to the theater manager's office.

There the boy allegedly overpowered the officer, breaking his nose, injuring a tendon in his knee and otherwise beating him, so that he had to be taken to Forest Hills hospital.

Middle-aged and the father of four children, Officer Ahern was in court on crutches today.

Judge Daniel W. Casey imposed the jail sentence after finding young Mitchell guilty of assault and battery. He also fined him $10 for disturbing the peace.

New Attack Opens On 'Gas' Tax Boost

Charging that increased taxes on gasoline would raise such taxes to an approximation of 57 per cent of the retail price per gallon, James N. Keefe, president of the Massachusetts Federation of American Automobile Associations, launched a new attack today on Governor Saltonstall's proposals for additional revenues.

The present tax, Keefe declared in a letter to the governor, is already 38 per cent of the retail price. To increase it, he said, would be "unfair to the already overtaxed motorist."

He also recalled the governor's campaign promise to see that gasoline taxes are only expended for the purpose for which they were originally established to build, repair and maintain highways.

Friends of the governor declared that he would frown on a proposal for a state lottery, put forward by ex-Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly, who asked that a plebiscite be taken on the plan.

They recalled the chief executive placed himself on record as against such a revenue-raising scheme unless the state's fiscal condition became much worse than it is at present.

The Kelly proposal came in a letter to Gov. Saltonstall, who has suggested needed revenue be met with new taxes on cigarettes, incomes, gasoline and legalized dog betting.

Pointing out that the state had legalized "gambling on dogs, horses, stock markets, insurance, beans, etc.," Kelly wrote that he requested a plebiscite "because of innumerable protests from the men and women of moderate circumstances against your recent recommendations for new taxes and because there is considerable public opinion that the people would much prefer a state lottery as a substitute means of raising this new revenue."

NEW PARKING RULE

A new and modified morning parking rule went into effect in the downtown section, today. It gives businessmen until 9:30 for their sidewalk loading, instead of 7, which has been the rule.

MARRIAGE appears to be a serious affair for Lou Fette, ace right-hander of the Boston Bees. The camera catches him and his bride, the former Lucille Greer, 23, as they emerge from the vestry of Brookline Baptist church. She was a school teacher in Lou's home town. Deacon Danny MacFayden was best man and Mrs. MacFayden bridesmaid.

WEDGED HIKER RESCUED

NYACK, N. Y., June 5 (AP).—A hiker wedged between two rocks at the foot of a 450-foot cliff was extricated and pulled to safety by a rope which, for 40 tense minutes, his rescuers feared might break.

Robert Gordon, 24, of New York City, was walking alone on a trail at Hook Mountain Park when he slipped and fell. His arms were pinned to his body in a crevice.

A bystander, Carl Wilson of Pearl River, stepped out from a crowd of several hundreds and offered to help. He snared Gordon's shoulders and, 4½ hours after he fell, the hiker finally was inched to safety.

FETTE BACK IN TOGS AFTER TAKING BRIDE

Pitcher Lou Fette of the Boston Bees was back in baseball togs and ready to go today, after the marriage license law compelled him to shift his wedding from Brookline to Boston.

It is to be explained for the comfort of the fans, that the Bees lose no pitching strength, as the honeymoon has been deferred until the season's close.

Batteries and admirers to the number of 200 were waiting in the First Baptist church in Brookline for big Lou's marriage to Miss Lucille Greer, a school teacher from his home town in Missouri, when a town officer discovered that the license was issued in Boston. The law says marriages must be performed in the counties where the licenses originate.

Rev. Samuel Lindsay noticed the error when handed the license in the vestry, and after informing the bewildered couple got in touch with Rev. DuBois LeFevre and arranged to have the marriage performed at the Second Unitarian church at Beacon st. and Park Drive in Boston.

A half hour later Rev. Lindsay met the couple at the other church, met with Danny MacFayden, another Bees hurler, and his wife, Mrs. Marie MacFayden, as attendants, the ceremony was performed.

PAROLEE FACES JAIL RETURN

With the outcome a possible return to State Prison, Parole Agent William Kirkwood was assigned today by State Commissioner of Corrections Arthur T. Lyman to investigate a drunken driving charge against James H. Scully, recipient of a Thanksgiving pardon in 1936. Scully, who was acquitted on a murder charge in connection with the slaying of Charles ("King") Solomon in the Cotton Club in January, 1933, was found guilty of armed robbery and was sentenced to 16 to 20 years.

He was pardoned by former Governor James M. Curley and the Executive Council in 1936 after serving only three years.

Last Thursday, Scully was arrested at 2 a. m. in Quincy, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The case was continued until next Friday.

Commissioner Lyman said today after assigning Agent Kirkwood to the investigation that a report on the case would be submitted to Governor Saltonstall and the Council with a view toward revocation of the Scully pardon.

Traps Himself At Bridgewater

BRIDGEWATER, June 5 (AP)—The escape plan of an inmate of the division of criminal insane at the Bridgewater state farm was foiled today when he trapped himself in a yard enclosed by high buildings.

Superintendent James E. Warren announced the inmate, William Baker, 24, of Holyoke, was recaptured and returned to a new cell in the building he fled.

Warren said day guards found Baker in the yard. He had left blankets rolled in his bed to simulate a sleeping man. An opening had been sawed through a heavy grill over the window and through H. Baker lowered himself two stories on a blanket rope. Using a string, he had pulled the removed wire section back into place, so night guards did not notice anything amiss.

Warren said the hackaw blade Baker used was unlike any carried in stock in the workshops.

Baker was transferred to the farm last July from the state prison, where he was serving 18 to 20 years for assault with intent to murder. He was committed from Springfield in 1933.

"Mrs. Jolson and I have decided on a baby sister for Al Jr., who is 4 years old now and getting pretty hard to handle," he said.

Jolson said he will stop at the suburban Evanston Cradle to make arrangements for a second adoption late this week. Al Jr. was adopted in May, 1935.

HERE is today's big news for smokers who want the most for their money in smoking pleasure at its best. Read the convincing comparisons made between cigarettes by a group of prominent scientists. In a leading laboratory, 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands were tested impartially with these results:

- ① Camels were found to contain MORE TOBACCO BY WEIGHT than the average for the 15 other of the largest-selling brands.
- ② CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!
- ③ In the same tests, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER than the average time for all the other brands.

Right now is an ideal time to switch to Camels—AT THE START OF THE SUMMER SEASON, when you're apt to be smoking more. Camel is the cigarette for steady smoking. Corcoran, F.D. Aide, After Farley's Job

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 5—Democratic politicians are wondering today whether Postmaster General James A. Farley is being displaced by Braintruster Thomas G. Corcoran as headman in the New Deal's drive to get President Roosevelt a third term.

"Tommy the Cork," as the brain-truster is affectionately called by the President, has taken charge of the undercover "Renominate Roosevelt" campaign. He is trying to harmonize differences within the Democratic party, line up delegates for the President and raise a pre-convention Roosevelt campaign fund.

Corcoran is doing all these things, although Farley the party's national chairman, has declared he will support the President for another term if Mr. Roosevelt decides to run. Corcoran has assumed the leadership even though Farley made a cross-continent trip, presumably to test out third-term sentiment for a personal report to the President.

Some Democrats believe Corcoran is trying to oust Farley as national chairman on the ground he is a receptive candidate for the 1940 nomination and as such should retire to the ranks. Others say Corcoran hopes to push Farley into the background now and gain the chairmanship if the 1940 convention renominates Mr. Roosevelt.

It is no secret in Washington that Corcoran and Farley are at odds. Corcoran is even credited with engineering the Tammany Hall coup that is reported to have placed a triumvirate in control of that organization.

WITH ROOSEVELT OK

The triumvirate is said to include the present Tammany leader, Rep. Christopher Sullivan, Rep. James H. Poy and U. S. Marshal John T. Kelly. Poy and Kelly are called Corcoran men. If this report is true, it means Farley has lost his chance to control Tammany Hall, as his nominee for leader is Rep. Joseph A. Gavagan.

All of Corcoran's maneuvers in the Tammany management are said to have the President's approval. There is no such assurance that Tommy is running the third term campaign with presidential blessing.

Corcoran has been one of the President's closest advisers for three or four years. Tommy was the Roosevelt leader in the utility holding company battle on Capitol Hill and again in the fight to create the Securities and Exchange Commission.

WINS 2 SENATORS

He was the undercover "boss" of the President's ill-fated Supreme Court enlargement fight. He, too, is credited with having inspired the disastrous "purge" campaign of last summer. He even chose the New Deal nominees in Iowa, Georgia and Maryland who were beaten respectively by Senators Gillette, George and Tydings.

In his harmony moves, Corcoran recently attended a Senate luncheon given by Senator Ashurst of Arizona. It was at Tommy's request that Senators Pat Harrison and Jimmy Byrnes were invited. Tommy hoped to make a favorable impression and did on Harrison and Byrnes, credited with the largest personal following in the Senate.

The point that arouses speculation among Democratic politicians is what Jim Farley will do about Corcoran's ambitions? They wonder whether Farley will fight back against Corcoran in an effort to retain his seat as driver of the Roosevelt bandwagon, and wonder even more, if he does fight, which man will get the nod from the President.

PRICE-FIX FOR MILK LEGAL

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Roosevelt Administration's attempt to stabilize the milk industry by fixing minimum prices and equalizing the amount paid producers was held constitutional today by the Supreme Court.

Justice Brand delivered the decision sustaining the government's program for stabilizing the milk industry in the New York area.

A similar decision was delivered by Reed in a case involving the Boston milk area.

The opinion held that the power of Congress to enact the 1937 agricultural marketing act depended upon the peculiar use and nature of milk.

Justices Black and Douglas concurred in the opinion, explaining, however, that they did not believe the court was called upon to indicate, as they interpreted the opinion to hold, that "there is such a constitutional limitation on the power of Congress to regulate interstate commerce."

It was a five to four decision, with Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McReynolds, Butler and Roberts dissenting.

The Reed opinion reversed a ruling by the Northern New York Federal District Court holding unconstitutional the milk provisions of the 1937 agricultural marketing act and an order issued by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace regulating the interstate sale of milk in the New York city area.

Teacher College Plan Hits Snag

Governor Saltonstall's recommendation to abolish four of the nine state teachers colleges met a setback today in the first test of strength in the legislative committee on education.

The committee was evenly divided. Six voted to abolish the four colleges and six to abolish none of them. There are 15 members of the committee. Supporters of the governor worked today to obtain another poll, but indications were a majority of the committee would vote against the governor's plan in a full poll.

G. O. P. 'Secessionist' Dies at R. I. Home

WICKFORD, R. I., June 5 (AP)—

Colonel Fred Burnside Lawton, 72, a Republican who "seceded" from the United States six years ago in protest against the New Deal, is dead at his home here.

Colonel Lawton was a Mason and aide to the late Governor A. J. Potter, and a member of the Turks Head Club of Providence. His widow survives.

'Save the Nation!' Pleads Vandenberg

SYRACUSE, June 5 (INS)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, who recently made himself available for the Republican presidential nomination on a "one-term" platform, today called on the youth of the nation to save the country for "the American system of government," from "Communism on the left" and "Fascism on the right."

Speaking to the graduating class of Syracuse University, which he stored upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws, he indicted the administration as one which has confused and bewildered the country.

Vandenberg said: "We wobble continuously between old deals and new deals and raw deals—and occasionally—square deals."

"We spend to save; we hunt more prosperity by going deeper into debt; we try to stretch an annual income of 60 billions into an annual income of 80 billions by squandering the difference; we dig gold, pay for it, and then bury it back in the ground again at Fort Knox."

"We called 12,000,000 unemployed in 1932 a depression, and we call 12,000,000 unemployed in 1939 a recovery and announce that 'we planned it that way.' We lecture foreigners about democracy and set up virtual government by executive decree ourselves; we kill little pigs while children cry for food; we have famine in the midst of plenty; we have purges and appeasements in such breath-taking and confusing succession that the man on a flying trapeze seems strategic in comparison."

Murphy, Hoover In Tax Drive

dence gradually has been gathered and tucked away in the files, according to authorities. It is this evidence, as well as last-minute additions, that is the basis of the charges soon to be laid before a Federal grand jury.

Assured of close co-operation in the prosecution, the Internal Revenue Bureau has dug from its files the cases which have simmered for years, but which had never quite come to a boil.

Both Murphy and Hoover will personally take a hand in the long-awaited drive. It was definitely disclosed today in an International News Service dispatch from Washington.

At the same time a drive also was on in Atlantic City. It has had a salutary effect, officials declared, with the Treasury Department receiving almost daily checks from persons owing back taxes.

Federal officials refused to discuss the cases, other than to admit they were near grand jury stage.

HITLER ADMITS CRISIS

BERLIN, June 5 (AP)—By the word of Adolf Hitler and his agriculture minister, Germany is engaged in a struggle against both political and economic "encirclement"—fighting the first with military rearmament and the second with efforts toward economic self-sufficiency.

Cheered by more than 300,000 persons, according to Nazi estimates, the Reichsfuehrer told the annual meeting of war veterans at Kassel yesterday.

"If the English encirclement policy remains what it was in 1934, it must be observed that the German defense policy has been fundamentally altered."

Agriculture Minister Walter R. Darre, opening the annual farm exposition at Leipzig, said that Germany faced "economic encirclement which has to be regarded just as seriously as political encirclement."

Darre said the Nazi farm program emphasized the mechanization of farms and the development of fat and oil-bearing plants.

Hitler found time, despite entertainment of Yugoslav's visiting agent, Prince Paul, to fly to Kassel by military plane to address his old comrades.

Underpays Girls, Fined $7000

The Fisher Shoe Company, Inc., of Hudson, was fined $7000, and its treasurer, Max Fisher, was fined $2000 in United States district court here today for violation of the federal wages and hours law.

The penalties were the heaviest thus far imposed in Massachusetts for evasion of statutes protecting workers.

Assistant U. S. Attorney General Marvin L. Coles told the court the Fisher firm juggled its books and time sheets so that 150 stitching-room girls received less than the legal wage minimum of 22 cents an hour.

Today's conviction was the fourth here in a drive against corporations allegedly paying employees less than their due under federal labor codes.

Other indictments and prosecutions were reported pending.

Britain Studies Soviet Answer

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told Commons today the latest Soviet note would require consideration before he could make a statement on British-French efforts to bring Soviet Russia within their mutual assistance framework.

Informal sources said the Soviet note was addressed jointly to Britain and France and, therefore, required consultation between the two powers before an answer could be drafted.

AMATEURS FEATURED

On Monday night, the amateur show featured a number of interesting and well-executed performances. The first act was a comedy sketch by the "Four Fools," who entertained the audience with their humorous dialogue and physical comedy. Following them was a musical number by the "Singing Six," who performed a medley of popular songs with great harmony and rhythm. The third act was a dramatic presentation by the "Drama Club," who depicted a scene from a classic play with excellent acting and stagecraft. The evening concluded with a variety show featuring a juggler, a contortionist, and a magician, all of whom received enthusiastic applause from the audience.

2. The second group of authors (e.g., Wallerstein, 1986) has argued that the family structure itself is the primary determinant of the child's development. In this view, the child's gender role is determined by the gender of the parent with whom the child is raised. For example, a child raised by a single mother would be expected to develop a more feminine gender role, while a child raised by a single father would be expected to develop a more masculine gender role. This view is based on the idea that the child's gender role is learned from the parent's behavior and attitudes.

New Romance In Hollywood

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD, June 5.—Andrea Leeds, 24, and Pat De Cicco, 25, are the latest Hollywood romance. The couple, who met in London, are said to be planning to elope. Leeds, who is a former model, is currently in a contract with MGM. De Cicco, who is a former boxer, is currently in a contract with RKO. The couple are said to be planning to elope in the near future.

You Can Be Beautiful

Relax in Piney Bath

By ARLINE GOULD
DOWN in the piney woods is the place to find ease for your soul and relaxation for your mind, so that the tired lines flow from your face... but if you can't just up and run to one of the Carolinas, or to a grove in New Hampshire... do the next best thing.

Run a bath full of warm water, add a few drops of pine oil, and you have a piney bath. It is a simple, elegant design that will make you feel like a queen. The pattern is made of a fine, textured rayon that gives it a soft, flowing quality.

There is a large number of studies on the effects of the use of the word "and" on the comprehension of the sentence. The results of these studies are not consistent. For example, Ash & Ash (1968) found that the use of the word "and" in the sentence "The cat sat on the mat and the dog sat on the floor" led to a higher comprehension score than the use of the word "or". However, Ash & Ash (1968) also found that the use of the word "and" in the sentence "The cat sat on the mat and the dog sat on the floor" led to a higher comprehension score than the use of the word "or" only when the sentence was presented in a written form. Austen Lake:

A New B. A. A. Rises From Ashes of Old

SOOOOO, THE SCATTERED FELLOWSHIP of the old B. A. A. is going to build a new sport palace and resurrect the fraternal order of the Blue Unicorn!

AUSTEN LAKE

Good news that! For in memory's album, which is an interesting tome filled with recollections of Jack Dempsey, Man O'War, George V. Brown and the miscellany of old sport, there is a melancholy page dedicated to the demise of the old B. A. A.

It was four years ago and November's bleak lights filtered through the club's mahogany gloom. Inside the rose brick clubhouse on Exeter street a brass voiced auctioneer barked the values of its ancient fittings, a requiem to defunct tradition intoned by a strident parson of dissolution.

Swarms of squat-scavengers, dealers with soiled collars and gimlet eyes, poked and prodded the furnishings—crows come to pick up the carrion of failure, profiteers come to fatten on calamity.

"H'much fo' this here boofay—ten dallahs?" the voice had droned.

B. A. A. Typified Old Boston

At the time of the auction, the B. A. A. was a club of about 100 members, many of whom were old-time Bostonians. The club had been founded in 1888 and had a long and distinguished history. It was one of the oldest and most respected clubs in the city. The auction was a sad day for many of the members, who had spent years of their lives building up the club. The sale of the clubhouse and its contents was a blow to the club's spirit and its members' pride. The B. A. A. was a club that had stood for tradition and excellence in the sport of golf. Its demise was a tragedy for the city and for the sport of golf in general.

But Youth Shied Away

THERE WAS THE CORDIAL ATMOSPHERE of an English hunting scene in the upstairs halls, the odors of roast plover, the tinkle of ice in frosted glasses, the haze of good tobacco and the drowsy murmur of voices.

There was no rush, no uneasy pressure within its doors. Just leisure and good living, so that over the years the sense of social dull and contentment in old friendships had spelled the club's doom. I write this now, both to recapture the scene and to warn the brotherhood against another such debacle.

For holier-than youth had found the cathedral calm depressing. The elders had bogged down in their grooves wishing to stop the clock and forget the inevitable advance of their years. Athletic youth, except in its place, annoyed the elders.

The color-washed gymnasium with its brick walls and antiquated apparatus fell into disuse. Punchbelle lined the walls, a narrow running track circled the gallery, parallel bars and weight lifting gear gathered midway. And except as a reception hall for the Marathon runners it was seldom used. So muscular youth shied away and, as the veterans passed, the fellowship fell to financial ruin.

George Brown Salvaged Something

THE CLUB, HOWEVER, LEFT WITH A WORTHY REMAINDER. Some of the members had been able to salvage some of the club's equipment and furniture. George Brown, one of the club's most prominent members, had managed to save a large portion of the club's library. He had also saved some of the club's most valuable records and documents. These items were now in the hands of a private collector, who had agreed to loan them to the new B. A. A. club. This was a great relief to the members, who had feared that the club's history would be lost forever.

The new B. A. A. club was founded in 1938 and has since then grown to a membership of over 200. It has a new clubhouse on Exeter street, which is a much-improved version of the old one. The new club has a strong emphasis on tradition and excellence, and it has managed to attract a large number of young members. The club's success is a testament to the power of tradition and the importance of a strong community. The new B. A. A. club is a proud member of the city's sporting community and it is looking forward to a bright future.

SMALL FIELD COMPETES FOR WOMEN'S GOLF CROWN

By BILL GRIMES

One of the most interesting and competitive golf events in the state is the 1939 Women's Golf Association of Massachusetts tournament, which is being held today at the Worcester Golf Club.

The tournament is open to all women who are members of the association and who are under the age of 35. It is a very competitive event and the winners will receive a large cash prize.

The tournament is being held over a three-day period and the winners will be determined by a combination of individual and team scores. The tournament is a very important event for the women's golf community in the state.

Net Stars at Hartford

HARTFORD, Conn., June 5 (AP)—Several of the east's ranking stars will take the court today in the opening round of the New England tennis championships.

Among those listed for first-round competition during the day are the top-seeded Martin Beatty of Miami, Fla.; Earl Staw, Boston; second-ranked Johnny Dugg of New York, former national champion; Bobby Decker of Miami, Fla.;

Gastonmiller of New York; and several of the east's ranking stars.

Channoy Steele, Jr., of New York City, who sprang a surprise at New Haven yesterday by winning the tournament title from Bays in a four-set match, said last night he was still uncertain whether he would come to Hartford to play for the New England team.

Connecticut's Win Brings Golf Deadlock

OSTERVILLE, June 5 (AP)—Connecticut's victory over Massachusetts in the 1939 Women's Golf Association tournament today brought a deadlock in the state championship.

The tournament was held at the Worcester Golf Club and the winners were determined by a combination of individual and team scores. The tournament was a very important event for the women's golf community in the state.

The tournament was being held over a three-day period and the winners will be determined by a combination of individual and team scores. The tournament is a very important event for the women's golf community in the state.

The tournament was being held at the Worcester Golf Club, which is one of the best golf courses in the state. The club has a long and distinguished history and it is a very popular destination for golfers of all ages.

The tournament is a very important event for the women's golf community in the state. It is a chance for women to compete at a high level and to win a large cash prize. The tournament is also a chance for women to enjoy the game of golf and to spend time with their friends.

Mr. Boston

By JACK CONWAY

All-Star Baseball Teams Suggested || Fans Asked to Name Clubs

THE ALL-STAR game between the American League and National League will be played at the Yankee Stadium, New York, on July 12. It is the opinion of "Mr. Boston" that baseball fans are better qualified than anybody else to pick the players who should participate in this game.

Connie Mack has already been named manager of the American League team, while Gabby Hartnett will pilot the National League club. Under ordinary conditions Joe McCarthy, pilot of the world's champion Yankees, would lead the American League club. It was decided, however, to give this honor to Connie Mack in consideration of his years of service with baseball.

"Mr. Boston" is publishing a coupon on which you are asked to name your All-Star teams. Selections of the fans will be published in this column, while all of the choices will be sent to American League and National League baseball officials to be used in making the final selections of the players who will take part in this important game.

Baseball officials, naturally, will like to get your picks for the various positions. Fill out the coupon in this column, and mail it to "Mr. Boston," Boston Evening American, Winthrop Square, Boston.

JOE CASHMAN, baseball editor of the Boston Evening American, has submitted his All-Star American League and National League teams.

Here are Cashman's teams:

UNCONSCIOUS—Aidan Roark, British star, lies unconscious after being knocked from mount. He had cut in front of onrushing pony of Mike Phipps of the U. S. team. Roark returned to game within ten minutes. His brother Pat was killed in a polo game last February.

Majeski Makes Hit At Bees' Hot Corner

had been on the job since the bell rang.

BEST IN A DECADE

No rookie in years has looked as impressive breaking in.

He's put on a hitting, fielding and throwing show that necessitates one rating third base, the weakest spot on the club for more than a decade, as one of its strongest departments now.

Defensively, he's handled himself as though he were born in the shadow of a hot corner, offensively, as though he's always owned such outstanding pitchers as Johnny VanderMeer and Lee Grissom.

His hitting hasn't been exactly a surprise. He knocked down fences when called upon to pinch hit a few times on the Swarm's last trip around the circuit. He had been a sticking sensation swinging on one foot in Florida. He hit well over 300 for Birmingham in the Southern League last year and for Eau Claire in the Northern League before that.

His fielding, on the other hand, has exceeded fondest hopes.

GREAT START

He had been anything but a standout as a second sacker in the bushes. That's why the Bees decided to try him in at third.

Had he been crude and jittery around there, it would have been no more than everybody expected.

Instead he started right off by giving the classiest third-base exhibition of any Allstar athlete since the late lamented Tony Boeckle was in his prime some 15 years ago.

He's handled a succession of scorching grounders, bothersome bunts and vicious line drives not only errorlessly but cleanly and with authority.

When that toe of his is completely healed and he has a couple of weeks of steady play under his belt, Henry "Heinie" Majeski promises to be the rookie wonder of the campaign.

WEATHER PLAYS TRICKS

The latest wallop to hit the Bees was the rain that washed out yesterday's scheduled Bree-Caved doubleheader, which was counted on to attract a crowd of at least 25,000. An hour after the torrential shower had forced the No-Game sign to be hung out, the sun was shining brightly.

It was still gloomy inside the Bees' offices, though, what with Casey Stengel just having returned from a visit to the bedside of Jim Turner at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and nobody having the slightest idea when Tony Cucinello would be able to play again.

Turner, the pilot reported, was resting as comfortably as could be expected. He's still suffering considerable pains. The Ival Goodman line drive, which nearly decapitated Sunny Jim in the sixth inning of Saturday's game, did more damage than was at first believed. It not only fractured his nose in three or four places but also badly cut his upper lip and knocked out a few teeth.

POSEDEL GETS CALL

The doctors haven't as yet started to make repairs and won't hazard a guess as to when the Tennessee milkman will be able to pitch again.

Stengel is confident, though, that Turner will be back on the job within ten days.

Neither of yesterday's games will be played off during the present visit of the second-place St. Louis entry. Single games today and tomorrow will complete the abbreviated series.

Bill Poseedel, who was to have shared the mound duty with Bridgeport Lou Fette yesterday, will start on the home hill this p. m. against Morton Cooper, classy Cardinal rookie.

Bob Quinn Matches Joe Kennedy Joins
Courage of Bees Hole-in-One Club

By BILL GRIMES

After losing Tony Cucinello and Jim Turner, Bob Quinn had become so case hardened to tough breaks that he took the postponement of yesterday's Bees-Cards doubleheader in stride. . . Weather permitting, there'd have been between 20,000 and 25,000 at National League Field.

Although the Bees' bank account is a few hundred thousand dollars away from that O. D. stamp, it requires plenty of intestinal fortitude not to be obliged to reach for the smelling salts when the weather man waxes out a Sunday twin bill with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Rfd Sox split a doubleheader with Cleveland yesterday and are now eight and a half games in arrears of the Yankees, who polished off Detroit. . . Oscar Vitt, manager of the Indians, refused to pitch Bob Feller against the Yanks. . . His objective is second place. . . In other words, he has conceded the pennant to New York.

Since going to the Court of St. James, Joe Kennedy has joined the "Hole-In-One" club. . . He held out a full wood shot from the second tee at Stokes Pines.

Apparently "Ancey" Doyle's failure to play in the Inter-State matches was not due, as reported, to an automobile accident. . . He was out with his brother Henry, "Ancey" captured the Massachusetts Golf Club four ball open tournament on Saturday.

William Cameron Forbes, former Governor General of the Philippines, has retired from polo playing. . . He wound up a 45-year career at the end of the 45th chukker of the Dedham-Pittsfield match on Saturday.

Buddy Hassett and Dels Garmis are the only Bees who have made more hits this season than Eddie Miller. . . Garmis is the leading hit getter of the Bees with 47 "blows." Buddy has made 42 and Miller has connected with 35.

Joe Wood, Jr., the Yale sophomore, who won the Princeton game Saturday with a timely single, must be the fair haired boy with Coach Joe Wood, Sr. his father. . . Young Joe is a far better than average college ball player but he has been having a difficult time selling himself to his father. . . Possibly old Joe doesn't intend that young Joe will get a "bump" on himself by getting to the top too rapidly.

Old Joe was a very cocky kid when he broke in with the Red Sox, and today he probably realizes that his attitude was a liability rather than an asset. . .

Bobby Knowles, The Country Club, didn't get away with the "Hagen" he pulled at Oyster Harbor. . . When he failed to report on time for the first round of the Inter-State matches, Bobby was yanked out of the line up. . . A non-related Corcoran combination, John, of the M. G. A. and Ken of Oyster Harbor, replaced the Knowles-Doyle team. . .

Through his efficient secretary Tommy Carens, Pres. Joe O'Connell announces that the Associate Members of the 101st Infantry (9th Massachusetts) will hold its spring assembly, which will include golf and tennis tournaments, June 15 at the Belmont Country Club. . .

It wouldn't have been a breach of etiquette on the part of Ralph Guldahl to have credited Freddie Corcoran, in person, rather than the Tournament Bureau of the P. G. A., in general, with the all around improvement in pro golf tournaments. . . His syndicated article entitled, "Three Straight?"

The Goodall Round Robin Invitation, which "Light-Horse" Harry Cooper captured yesterday at the Fresh Meadows Country Club, down at Flushing, N. Y., was a thriller from start to finish.

There's no question that Round-Robin tournaments are the greatest interest sustainers that the Royal and Ancient game has to offer. . . Sam Sneed led the field at the end of the first day with 11 points. . . Then, Ralph Guldahl went wild and stepped out in front at the half way mark only to be knocked off his perch by Harry Cooper who went through and won with plenty to spare. . . With that $1000 check that Elmer Ward handed him last night, Cooper's caddy in the open is assured of his dough.

Midget Autoists Race at Lowell

Assured the fastest field of pilots since midget auto racing under floodlights was introduced in New England two years ago, the opening meet at the Alumni Field, Lowell, took tonight promises to be a thrilling spectacle of speed.

Ross Bans Shore Move As Player

Eddie Shore was still in Boston today, with his future undecided.

The Bruins are deferring a decision on whether to let the Springfield field hockey club for some weeks, with the idea of getting control, perhaps as manager or part owner.

However, Art Ross, who guided the Bruins to the N. H. L. title and the Stanley Cup this past season, said today:

"Shore can become manager of Springfield if he wishes, but naturally we wouldn't release him to play elsewhere, even if the other clubs would waive on him."

"And it doesn't seem likely that he'd give up a sure thing here in Boston for something uncertain, does it?"

Ross added, in answer to a question:

"These stories about breaking up the Bruins to balance power in the N. H. L. are all rot. We never did such a thing, and never will. Any N. H. L. trades which have been made lately were regular deals, for players or money, such as are made every year."

Daughter Is Born To Girl Golf Champ

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—A daughter was born today to Canadian-born Brigadier General Alfred Cecil Critchley, millionaire czar of England's greyhound racing industry, and Mrs. Critchley, the former Diana Fishwick, well-known British golf titleholder.

They were married in July, 1938.

CONTEST EDITOR'S BIGGEST PROBLEM SOLVED BY EXPERT

ART MOGER, nationally famous CONTEST EDITOR and radio celebrity, is shown receiving expert advice about his hair from John E. Warner, New England's leading hair and scalp specialist. Mr. Moger knows that a good head of hair is a real asset and that through proper scientific treatment he can avoid baldness. If you are suffering from the symptoms of approaching baldness such as flandruff, itchy or oily scalp, and falling or thinning hair, you owe it to yourself to consult John E. Warner. At least 80% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be corrected if caught in time. There is no charge or obligation for a private consultation with John E. Warner. His offices are located at 315 Washington St., opposite R. H. White's, near the corner of West St. Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. Saturdays to 6 P. M. Phone Hub 1705.
